responses to Requests for Proposals (RFPs) from any commercial interests/ineligible companies. Should there be any questions or additional information needed, please do not hesitate to contact the AOA for assistance.

All requests will be filled on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Proof of confirmed funding is due when the application is submitted.

PROGRAM PROCESS AND REQUIREMENTS

Grant Request Authorization:

The AOA will advise the joint provider regarding grant request submission process, either authorizing the joint provider to proceed or, if the commercial interest listed requires that the request come directly from the accredited provider, the joint provider will have to provide the AOA with the information for the grant request, exactly as it is to be entered/uploaded, so that it can be submitted under the AOA's user profile. Note that if it is necessary for the AOA to submit the grant, the joint provider should allow 5-7 business days for AOA staff to complete the grant request once all necessary information is received. Every effort will be made to submit grants promptly, however a faster turnaround cannot be guaranteed. If authorized to submit grant request directly, the joint providers are required to provide the AOA with copies of all grant request submissions, (i.e., online forms, screen shots, uploaded attachments, etc.) and grant number or other tracking information.

All grant requests must properly list the AOA as the sole accredited provider for the program and also the payee for the grant. The AOA cannot accept grants, Letters of Agreement, and/or CME Symposium Applications with alternate provider/payee information, so it is critical that grant requests are properly submitted.

CME Symposium Application:

Upon receipt of a grant approval from the commercial supporter, joint providers may submit their completed CME Symposium Application and required attachments, including the grant LOA for AOA signature (note that in the case of electronic acceptance agreements, the LOA must still be submitted to AOA first for online acceptance authorization).

OMED Staff will advise if any application components are missing as incomplete applications are not accepted. Joint providers may also be advised if any of the proposed faculty is also confirmed for other sessions at the OMED Annual Meeting as OMED does limit the number of appearances an individual can make on the Annual Meeting Program.

Complete applications will be reviewed by the AOA. Please allow 5-7 business days for AOA staff to review.

Approval Notice and Faculty Confirmations:

Joint providers will be notified once their symposium is approved and advised regarding the faculty selected by the AOA. Additionally, they will be provided with their time slot assignment.

Joint providers should immediately contact the approved faculty and confirm their participation. If a faculty member is unavailable or declines the invitation, the joint providers must contact the AOA with replacement recommendations for approval.

CME Submission Requirements:

AOA requires that all activities be submitted for accreditation no later than three months prior to the start of the activity. Exceptions may be granted and will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. In order to receive AOA 1-A CME there must be 30% of the total content presented by a DO.

All CME information must be submitted to the AOA Senior Manager of Physician Education and CME. Timeline for submission and further CME guidance will be provided to joint providers once symposia are approved.

Program Materials:

AOA must approve all program materials (print, digital, or other media) prior to production and distribution. AOA will provide content requirements for all program materials upon initial symposium approval.

At least 2 virtual signage images will also be required from the joint provider. Sign proofs must be submitted to the AOA for approval and allow 3-5 business days for review and response.

Additional advertising opportunities are available for symposia including ads in OMED 2024 publications and meeting specific materials. While optional these items must still be approved by AOA prior to publication.

Syllabus & Presentation Slides:

Joint providers are required to produce a syllabus for their symposium to be made available to attendees. As with all other materials, the syllabus must be approved by AOA and content requirements will be provided to the joint provider upon initial symposium approval. Syllabus proofs must be submitted to AOA for approval and allow at least 7-10 business days for review and response. Submitted with the syllabus proof, either in the same document or separate, should also be the activity evaluation, which must also be approved by AOA.

Post Program Documentation & Budget Reconciliation:

AOA requires that joint providers submit a summary report of the attendee evaluations and any other outcomes reporting resulting from their symposium. Reports should be submitted by the stated deadline; however if longer-range outcomes measurements are being conducted, the joint provider must advise AOA as to the timeline and reports should be submitted upon completion.

Additionally, the joint provider must reconcile all program expenses based on the original symposium budget and provide a copy of their reconciled budget to AOA. As with the original grant request, if the joint provider was authorized to submit the grant directly, then they will also be required to submit the necessary grant reconciliation directly to the supporter and provide copies of their submission to AOA (i.e., online forms/screen shots, uploaded documents, etc.). If it was necessary for AOA to submit the grant request, then the joint provider will need to follow the same protocol for the reconciliation, providing AOA staff with the information exactly as it is to be entered/uploaded and again, a minimum of 5-7 business days should be allotted for AOA staff to complete the submission.

FINANCIAL POLICIES AND MILESTONES

In accordance with AOA Standards for Integrity and Independence in Accredited Continuing Education, it is AOA's policy that all funds and support associated with a CME activity, whether in the form of an educational grant or not, must be given to the accredited provider (AOA). Activity funds will be distributed to the joint provider upon achievement of the two required milestones listed below. Payments to the joint provider, regardless of milestone achievement, can never exceed the balance of funds received by AOA from the commercial supporter(s).

Milestone 1; Submission of all CME requirements (objectives, needs assessment, agenda, faculty forms, and CVs, etc.)

- 90% of activity grant, less AOA fees.
- Funds will be distributed upon receipt from the commercial supporter(s) – if less than 90% received at time of milestone achievement, remaining balance will be paid immediately upon AOA receipt of funds.

Milestone 2; Submission of post-program documentation and budget reconciliation

- Up to 10% of activity grant—exact amount based on final budget reconciliation.
- AOA will retain any unused grant funds for return to the commercial supporter(s).

If the commercial supporter's payment schedule is 100% upon signing the LOA, AOA will hold the funds for the joint provider until the post program requirements are completed.

Cancellation Policy

AOA has established a cancellation policy for OMED CME Symposia as follows:

- The third-party joint provider is required to provide confirmation in writing from the supporter or the supporter's grants office that the supporter has officially approved the program.
- In the event that the joint provider has not provided confirmation in writing from the supporter or the supporter's grant office, and the supporter chooses not to provide support for the program at any time, AOA will charge a cancellation fee of 25% to the third-party joint provider.
- Supporter will be charged a 50% fee if canceling satellite symposia 90 days or less prior to the scheduled providing a replacement satellite event is scheduled.
- Cancellation notice received less than 90 days prior to the event and no replacement symposium is scheduled will not receive a refund.

LOGISTICAL INFORMATION

Standard Program Format:

The standard program format for AOA symposia is to have 1-3 presenting speakers delivering content for up to 90 minutes including Q&A. Other formats may be accepted upon AOA review and approval.

The virtual symposium will be available on demand from September 22-December 31, 2024.

Attendance:

The estimated total meeting attendance is 5,000-6,000. Note that participation levels for symposium can vary with past numbers ranging from 350-1000 virtual+ virtually for a single session. While attendance is consistently robust, it is also driven by the educational subject matter of the symposium.

Upon request, AOA will provide regular updates to the joint providers regarding the pre-registration numbers for the overall meeting. This information is provided to assist for planning purposes only. Please note, the AOA does not "pre-register" Symposia Attendees for these events, nor is it suggested that this be done as a measure to anticipate attendance.

BUDGET INFORMATION

Joint providers are responsible for developing a budget to cover all the required elements of their symposium as well as any added components or enhancements and their program management/service fees.

The following items are required components for AOA symposia that all joint providers must include in their budgets:

Accreditation ($12,500) & Association Fee ($32,000)

- Includes CME accreditation for the activity as well as issuing of CME certificates to those who attended the session.

- Includes platform space, promotion in all OMED related publications and virtual signage where appropriate, as well one member of the AOA to act as Liaison between the joint provider and all vendors where deemed necessary.

In addition, companies conducting a CME symposium activity can also purchase the following:

1. Push notifications, digital program advertisements, and daily event emails to alert OMED registrants.
2. Social media postings.³

Faculty Slide Review

- AOA does provide a Faculty Slide Review meeting space if enough room is available at the host facility.

Enduring Materials

- Enduring materials developed as a spin off to their AOA symposium must also be accredited by the AOA — they are separate activities with their own approval process and fee structure.

- Symposia and enduring materials should each have their own activity budgets, even if being submitted in the same grant.

ENDURING MATERIALS

While both the virtual and enduring activities may be approved by a single grant from a commercial supporter, they are each a separate medium of learning. Therefore, all enduring materials undergo a separate review and approval process.

AOA welcomes enduring activities to enhance the educational reach of the symposia presented at our Annual Meeting. Like the virtual symposia, enduring material spin-off activities are directly accredited by AOA for dual credit.

The AOA offers multiple enduring options to complement CME Symposia and we encourage you to explore them as they directly reach an extended DO audience of thousands — details are available upon request.

Joint providers must indicate on their request form if any enduring material spin-offs are being developed from their virtual activity and if so, indicate whether funding is being requested for the virtual and enduring together or via separate grant requests. As noted previously, joint providers may not submit grant requests to any commercial interests without authorization from AOA – this includes requests for enduring materials.
