CONVERGING LINES

Preferred usage - Converging lines artwork (shown below) should be used horizontally and run the full width of the print or digital piece. Optional, it can also bleed off the top or bottom of the piece. This element shouldn't be modified, only scaled and/or cropped proportionally based on the size of piece. Additionally, order of colors should not be altered.

STACKED LINES

Preferred usage - This smaller element (shown at left) can be used for smaller marketing communication pieces or as an alternative to the converging lines. Can be used at varying heights and widths, but the colored bars should always have equal height/width and in this order of color. Structure should not be altered and should not be used in an angled fashion or stretched.
